RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH PROGRAM-SPECIFIC ACTIVITIES

In addition to the general travel risks outlined in the Study Abroad Risk Advisory, this program Art Studio in Paris and the French Riviera (hereinafter “Program”) has specific activities which may pose a heightened level of risk for participants. UC Davis Study Abroad provides this information so that students can make an informed decision about consenting to participate in the Program. Participants in the Art Studio in Paris and the French Riviera program will be expected to participate in the activities below.

If participants do not want to participate in an activity, they must inform the Faculty Leader or Program Coordinator immediately and ask to opt out. In some cases, an activity may be a required in order to participate on the Program (e.g. travel to another site). In these instances, participants wishing to opt out may not be able to participate in the Program at all and may need to choose another program. Study Abroad will try to keep opt out decisions confidential, but due to the group nature of certain activities (such as group travel/tours), it may be impossible for the decision to be kept confidential.

By participating in a UC Davis Study Abroad Program, participants voluntarily assume these additional associated risks, both known and unknown. If participants do not ask to opt out, UC Davis Study Abroad will assume they consent to the risks associated with participating in the activities.

- This Program includes transportation or tours on boats or other marine vessels. These vessels may be public conveyances or private charters, subject to oversight by marine regulatory bodies of France. UC Davis Study Abroad cannot certify pilot training or licensure, vessel integrity, or mechanical service. UC Davis Study Abroad cannot anticipate water conditions but where possible will postpone travel or change itineraries under inclement conditions (may not be possible for public conveyance). All travelers should ensure appropriate life-saving/personal floatation devices are available before boarding, review and understand all safety procedures, and ask questions about the use of safety devices.

- This Program includes non-traditional non-motorized transportation both during Program hours and/or as the primary means of transportation for students during free time via:
  - Extended walking or hiking of approximately 5 miles.
This form of transportation is a common or elective form of public transportation in the country abroad but may have limited or no governmental regulation. This means that this form of

- This Program requires the use of public transportation. Travelers on this Program will be required to utilize public transportation (buses, trains, taxis, etc.) as the primary means of conveyance. Travelers may be provided with transportation passes as part of their Program fees. Public transportation services are regulated by local governments and are typically held to minimum standards of repair, safety, timely service and accessibility. Public transportation is often very safe and, in some areas, is the only means of transportation. However, local regulations may differ or be less than those for public transportation in the U.S. Use of public transportation include the risk of injury from accident (including operator negligence), transit delays, fines or penalties for improper use, impacts or shutdowns related to worker strikes, petty theft and assault, and minimal but elevated risk from terrorist activities.

- This Program includes a substantial amount of travel and relocation. This Program is a “multi-site” or “traveling” program and requires that students change locations on a periodic basis. While the frequent travel is not inherently dangerous, there is a slightly elevated risk of injury or accidental loss of property associated with the frequent moves. While unlikely, there is an increased risk of accidental loss of belongings, delays and changes to the Program itinerary due to transportation delays, the possibility of small additional costs to students (baggage fees, meals purchased in transit), and some travelers may experience stress or fatigue associated with frequent moves/travel.
