Objective: This course is designed to prepare Taiwan QA students for research during Spring 2015 quarter and to fulfill requirements for internship transcript notation.

Students will prepare a written document describing their proposed research project including an Introduction, Background and Research Plan.

Students must also complete the Laboratory Safety Fundamentals Certification.