Seminars Abroad Awards

UC Davis Study Abroad is pleased to announce study abroad awards for participants in Seminars Abroad 2019 programs.

Eligibility: The following students are eligible to apply: UC Davis Seminars Abroad programs in Italy, Mexico, and Nepal. You must already be enrolled in a 2019 program by the submission deadline; students with incomplete applications will not be considered. You do not have to be eligible for financial aid in order to receive an award.

Responsibility: If you receive an award you must complete a project highlighting your study abroad experience (projects may be shared, in print and/or online, with the UC Davis Study Abroad community—e.g. award donors, faculty, staff). There are three Project Tracks available to choose from: (1) Article Writing/Blogging, (2) Photo Journalism, or (3) Design your own project. Full details will be provided when awards recipients are announced.

To Apply: Applications open on May 1, 2019. Please follow these steps: (1) Log into your Study Abroad account, (2) Click “Search Scholarships” tab, (3) Click “Apply Now”, (4) Follow the online instructions and submit a response to the first prompt:

1) How the specific study abroad program you have chosen is related to your academic, personal, or professional goals (500 word limit; please remember to include a title).

Additionally, some of the Study Abroad Awards will include financial need as a criteria (others will not):

(2) For priority consideration, students should have a current FAFSA or CA Dream Act application complete.

Award amounts usually range from $500-$1,000 per student.

Deadline Extended: Monday, June 3, 2019
Late applications will not be accepted

Study Abroad Award recipients will be announced via email by Wednesday June 12, 2019

UC Davis Study Abroad is pleased to announce Study Abroad Awards ranging from $500-$1,000 for participants in UC Davis Seminars Abroad programs. The workshop, led by UWP Professor and Study Abroad Faculty Director Aliki Dragona, is geared to help you understand the Study Abroad Award application and the application process. Give yourself a leg up and come learn how to create an outstanding application that will help fund your study abroad experience.

Aliki Dragona joined UC Davis in 1990. Born in Paris, France, and raised in Athens, Greece, she has taught writing and literature in the United States and Greece. Currently Dr. Dragona is the Faculty Director for faculty-led programs at UC Davis Study Abroad and a continuing lecturer with the University Writing Program. Dr. Dragona has taught a wide range of writing courses and has served as the Assistant Director for Lower Division Writing at UWP for six years; in addition, she will be leading the Summer Abroad Writers in Greece program this year.
